ARTICLES, COMMENTS, REPLYS

PERCEPTION AND PERFORMANCE

Subjective probabilities for unions of events by L. R. Beach and C. R. Peterson, 307

Intuitive estimation of means by L. R. Beach and R. G. Swenson, 161

Age differences in lightness perception by J. Beck (Vol. 4, 201-202)
Comment by J. Beck, 166

Comment on non-parametric tests in the one-sample case by R. Elliott, 46

Tables of random letters by D. L. Hintzman, 253

An event selector for sequential control by H. T. Salive and D. E. Carter, 71

PSYCHOPHYSICS

Contextual determination of apparent weight as demonstrated by the method of constant stimuli by Dorothy Dinnerstein, F. Curcio and J. Chinsky, 251

Power law fits to magnitude estimates of groups and individuals by D. Freides and Patricia Phillips, 367

Haptic and kinesthetic estimates of length by G. Stanley, 377

VISION

Separation thresholds for colored bars with varied luminance contrast by H. P. Bishop, 237

A binocular parallax theory of the geometric illusions by A. Cleary, 241

The sun illusion: Individual differences in remembered size and distance judgments by W. L. King and M. C. Hayes, 65

Lateral asymmetry in the stability of the visual field by J. P. McKinney, 175

Initial stimulus duration and the temporal range of apparent movement by R. H. Pollack, 165

Temporal range of apparent movement as a function of age and intelligence by R. H. Pollack, 243

Effects of darkness, constant illumination, and synchronized photic stimulation on auditory sensitivity to pulsed tones by J. A. Sheridan, R. S. Cimbalo, J. A. Sills, and E. A. Alluisi, 311

The boundary of entoptic space by G. Stanley, 45

PERFORMANCE

A developmental study of the effects of visual and auditory interference on a visual scanning task by Eleanor J. Gibson and A. Yonas, 163

Reaction time to "tone-off" by J. B. Grier, 385

Infants' observing and heart period responses as related to novelty of visual stimuli by W. J. Meyers and G. N. Cantor, 239

Some correlates of inhibition-facilitation effect on reaction-time due to unexpected increase in stimulus intensity by A. P. Purohit, 53

Performance following a night of reduced sleep by R. T. Wilkinson, R. S. Edwards and E. Haines, 471

HUMAN LEARNING AND THINKING

CONDITIONING

An inverse effect of UCS intensity upon partially reinforced eyelid conditioning by R. Boice and Carol Boice, 69

Affect conditioning associated with the onset and termination of electric shock by B. Forrin (Vol. 4, 191-192)
Erratum, 300

Cross-modal generalization to tone and light in human eyelid conditioning by G. A. Marlatt, D. Lilie, B. D. Selvidge, M. D. Sipes and I. Gormezano, 59

Conditioned vestibular sway as a function of CS-UCS interval by Jean A. Pezzoli and J. W. Moore, 461

Drive times habit in human eyelid conditioning by W. F. Prokasy and C. K. Allen, 155

DISCRIMINATION LEARNING

Acquisition of a temporal discrimination by human subjects by D. E. Carter and G. J. MacGrady, 309

The relative effectiveness of stereometric and pattern stimuli in discrimination learning in children by Rhea L. Dornbush and Wilma A. Winnick, 301

Prediction of schema learning by linear regression by E. M. Edmonds and S. H. Evans, 457

Schema discrimination as a function of training by S. H. Evans and E. M. Edmonds, 303

Use of Semantic Differential dimensions in concept learning by R. C. Haygood, 305

Associative symmetry with two conditions of perceptual organization by D. L. Hoats and Irma R. Gerjuoy (Vol. 4, 341-342)
Erratum, 86

The influence of NKOR, sex, and task on visual pattern discrimination by Louise B. Miller, 459

Apparatus note: A modified WGTA for children by B. A. Olson, H. A. Cross and Reesa M. Vaughter, 319

The overtraining reversal effect under two types of discrimination by V. J. Tempone, J. Capehart, G. L. Atwood and S. Golding, 229

Perceptual learning and the discrimination of wines by R. D. Walk, 57

The role of dimensional preferences in discrimination learning by J. L. Wolff, 455

PAIRED-ASSOCIATE LEARNING

Associative asymmetry in paired associates by Eileen W. Coutu, 389

Response familiarization and subsequent paired-associate learning for mixed and unmixed lists of differential meaningfulness by D. G. Davenport, D. H. Kausler, J. H. Mueller, Jr. and A. A. Norvilas, 391

First-trial guessing and verbal-discrimination learning by R. L. Dominowski, 231

The role of associative strategies in the acquisition of P-A material: An alternative approach to meaningfulness by C. J. Martin, D. L. Cox and F. J. Boersma (Vol 3, 463)

Comments by E. A. Lovelace and R. W. Schulz, 72

Stimulus familiarization (n) in nonverbal selective learning by C. E. Noble, J. P. Allison and T. A. Jones, 453

Transfer in the A-B, C-B paradigm as a function of stimulus class by Katie Olivier and D. H. Kausler, 47

Pictures versus words as stimuli and responses in paired-associate learning by A. Paivio and A. D. Yarmey, 235

A paired-associates learning task involving two sensory modalities by H. A. Ries, 173

Intralist similarity and facilitation of paired-associate learning by fixed order presentation by S. J. Samuels and W. E. Jeffrey, 141

Confidence ratings in recall paired-associates learning by M. D. Suboski, B. A. Pappas and D. J. Murray, 147

Two-digit numbers in paired-associates learning by A. D. Yarmey, 139

Set and word abstractness-concreteness shift in paired-associate learning by A. D. Yarmey and K. A. Thomas, 387

REINFORCEMENT

Reward structure and payoff preferences in human learning by M. Cole, R. Calfee and L. Keller, 169

Suppression and recovery of a human response as a function of the temporal order of reward and punishment by R. D. Hare, 49

Preference for delay of shock as a function of its intensity and probability by R. D. Hare, 393

Frustration effects rather than Sr effects in children by L. E. Longstreth (Vol. 4, 425)

Comment by L. J. J. Bruno, 407

Reply by L. E. Longstreth, 408

Stimulus duration effects on secondary reinforcement by Mona Morningstar, N. A. Myers and J. L. Myers (Vol. 4, 357-358)

Comment by T. D'Andrea, 255

Reply by Mona Morningstar, 256

Instrumental escape as a function of UCS intensity, UCS reduction, and type of instructions by J. J. Porter and J. M. Dawley, 171

The effect of electric shock on learning by performers and observers by M. E. Rosenbaum and O. J. Hewitt, 81

Suppression of a rewarded response by punishment as a function of reinforcement schedules by M. Vogel-Sprott, 395

RETENTION AND FORGETTING

Effect of sequential blocking of similar trigrams on free and serial recall by W. F. Battig, 369

Pupillary changes in two memory tasks by J. Beatty and D. Kahneman, 371

Effects of reporting associative strategies on the retention of paired-associates by F. J. Boersma, R. C. Conklin and J. E. Carlson, 463

Rate of presentation and the acoustic similarity effect in short-term memory by R. Conrad, A. D. Baddeley and A. J. Hull, 233

Channel by channel report of visually presented "Stroop" items by M. C. Corballis and R. Philipp, 465

Evidence of semantic coding in short-term memory by H. C. A. Dale and M. Gregory, 75

Evidence of semantic coding in short-term memory by H. C. A. Dale and M. Gregory, 153

Recall of simultaneously and successively presented information by P. L. Derks and L. Freeman, 51

Schema learning without a prototype by E. M. Edmonds and S. H. Evans, 247

Associative and free recall of paired-associates under conditions of response articulation and % OSM partial reinforcement by L. R. Goulet, 227

Natural language mediation and covert rehearsal in short-term memory by L. D. Groninger, 135

Extinction, new learning and the unlearning phenomenon by J. P. Houston, 245

Successive recall as a warm-up task for paired adjectives by G. Lazar and J. van Laer, 137

Short-term retention, presentation rate, and number of display cycles by M. S. Mayzner, M. E. Tresselt, S. Adler, A. Cohen and K. M. Schoenberg, 317

Short-term retention of digits: A function of item distribution with respect to time by M. S. Mayzner, M. E. Tresselt, S. Adler, A. Cohen and K. M. Schoenberg, 403

Free recall of intra-list items as a function of serial position and association value by I. Reid, D. Roberts and F. J. King, 383

The effects of categorization and categorical repetition on successive recalls of word lists by W. A. Roberts and Ina Smith, 225

Retroactive interference as a function of set and recall environment by C. A. Rogers, Jr., 223

Word associations and connected discourse: A reply to Lachman, Dumas and Guzy by S. Rosenberg, 249

Comment by R. Lachman, 50

Confidence ratings in recall paired-associates: The RTT paradigm by M. D. Suboski, B. A. Pappas and D. J. Murray, 315

Effects of incentive and incentive-cue position on short-term retention by R. M. Tarpy and S. Glucksberg, 313

Role of response availability in forgetting: A reappraisal by Ethel Weiss, 379

Presentation modes and immediate recall in children by R. Wong and G. Blevings, 381

MEDIATION

Pseudomediation effects with no intertrial intervals by J. G. Carlson, 77

The effect of word abstractness and pleasantness on pupil size during an imagery task by A. Paivio and H. M. Simpson, 55

Mediated meaningfulness? by Margaret J. Peterson, 61

The effects of differential acquisition-stage emphasis and auto-instructions upon verbal mediating responses by Margaret J. Peterson and Sarah D. Hillner, 63

Differential acquisition-stage emphasis, instructions, and verbal mediating responses by Margaret J. Peterson and Sarah D. Hillner, 73

Effects of relearning sessions on verbal mediating responses by Margaret J. Peterson, Sarah D. Hillner and Sarah M. Jamison, 151

Mediational effects as a function of Stage 3 mediator presentation by R. Popp and J. F. Voss, 133

A free-association test of the differential unlearning hypothesis of pseudomediation by R. D. Seim and R. K. Penney, 143

Changes in pupil size during an imagery task without motor response involvement by H. M. Simpson and A. Paivio, 405

VERBAL PROCESSES

Meaning change and retroactive effects following low meaningful stimulus and response satiation by R. Kanungo and Lynn Ross, 397

Joint effects of word association and approximation to English by R. Lachman, J. S. Dumas and L. T. Guzy, 145

Cultural differences in statistical approximations to English by N. Moray, 467

Semantic satiation and problem solving by A. H. Wakin and J. R. Braun, 469

PROBLEM SOLVING

Human estimates of statistical relatedness by D. E. Erlick, 365

Alternation in a spatial orientation task by Irma R. Gerjuoy, J. J. Winters, Jr. and D. L. Hoats, 83

Effects of probabilistic independent outcomes upon predictions by Francis W. Irwin and Marsha J. Metzger, 79

The relationship between stochastic and temporal dominance under an accuracy set by W. M. Petrusic, 373

Latency, stochastic dominance and laterality effects by W. M. Petrusic, 375

Developmental level and concept learning: A possible artifact by R. K. Te Vault, Melinda Bailey, Elizabeth Cagan, Joan Dionis and Edith Figelman, 167
Reply by S. R. Friedman, 384

SOCIAL PROCESSES

Similarity versus liking as determinants of interpersonal attractiveness by E. Aronson and P. Worchel, 157

Cooperation and the variation of payoff in non-zero-sum games by J. G. Ellis and V. Sermat, 149

Payment schedule, sequence of choice, and cooperation in the Prisoner's Dilemma game by G. W. Evans and C. M. Crumbaugh, 87

The effects of score feedback and strategy of the other on cooperative behavior in a maximizing differences game by P. S. Gallo, Jr., Roberta Irwin and G. Avery, 401

Group consensus and judgmental accuracy: Extension of the Asch effect by J. M. Hicks, R. A. Monty and T. I. Myers, 159

The effects of competition and noncompetition on performance of a motor task by R. D. Petre and C. Galloway, 399

Persuasion as a function of varying amounts of distraction by P. C. Rosenblatt, 85

Initial speaking distance as a function of the speakers' relationship by F. N. Willis, Jr., 221

PHYSIOLOGICAL PSYCHOLOGY

The relation of the phase-locked fixation saccade-linked component of alpha rhythm to change of stimulus illuminance by K. Gaarder, A. Alterman and W. Kropfl, 445

Hoarding and neonatal irradiation by M. Manosevitz, 183

Conditioned aversion to sucrose in rats using X-rays as the unconditioned stimulus by J. C. Smith and Rose Ann Birkle, 271

PLANARIAN CONDITIONONG

Retention of a position discrimination after regeneration in planarians by W. C. Corning, 17

Further study of differential conditioning in the planarian by H. D. Kimmel and Virginia L. Harrell, 285

Memory transfer in planarians: An artifact of the experimental variables by D. R. Walker, 357

Memory transfer vs. sensitization in cannibal planarians by D. R. Walker and G. A. Milton, 293

BRAIN LESIONS

The effect of a lesion of the habenula on passive avoidance by K. B. Davis, M. Stevenson, A. H. McIver and H. C. Nielson, 5

A comparison of the effects of medial and lateral midbrain lesions in rats by Annette Ehrlich and S. E. Glickman, 129

The effect of training trials on passive avoidance deficits in the hippocampectomized rat by R. L. Isaacson, D. S. Olton, Barbara Bauer and Pamela Swart, 419

Conditioned avoidance response perseveration in septal rats during massed extinction trials by T. J. La Vaque, 409

Effects of lights at the choice point on spatial alternation and position learning by normal rats and rats with bilateral lesions of the caudate nucleus by W. L. Mikulas, 275
Cerebral lesions and climbing suppression in the turtle by I. M. Spigel and K. R. Ellis, 211

RIBONUCLEIC ACID

RNA and actinomycin-D enhancement of learning in the carp by S. Batkin, W. T. Woodard, R. E. Cole and J. B. Hall, 345
Heredity-environment interaction in brain extract transfer in highly inbred mice by A. B. Carran and Carolyn P. Nutter, 3
Some effects of injections of ribonucleic acid by J. A. Corson and H. E. Enesco, 217
Maze preferences in naive rats produced by injection of ribonucleic acid from trained rats by A. L. Jacobson, F. R. Babich, Suzanne Bubash and Carolyn Goren (Vol. 4, 3-4)
Comment by A. G. Worthington and M. B. Macmillan, 298
Reply by A. L. Jacobson, 298

ELECTRICAL BRAIN STIMULATION

Extinction of the effect of one ECS by H. E. Adams, 295
Extinction responding following ICS and food reinforcement by J. L. Culbertson, J. W. Kling and M. A. Berkley, 127
Self-stimulation in pigeons: The problem of "priming" by E. M. MacPhail, 7
Conditioned suppression and self-stimulation by R. W. McIntire, 273
Reinforcement of aggression through intracranial stimulation by T. J. Stachnik, R. E. Ulrich and J. H. Mabry, 101
Rate of intracranial self-stimulation as a function of stimulus waveform and intensity by J. Su, M. A. Berkley, M. Terman and J. W. Kling, 219

CHEMICAL BRAIN STIMULATION

Spreading depression and interhemispheric transfer of an avoidance response by F. A. Beach, III, 9
Home cage behavior following chemical stimulation of the lateral hypothalamus by R. J. Blanchard and D. Carolyn Blanchard, 1
Retroactive effects of topical applications of potassium chloride, pentylenetetrazol, and strychnine on the acquisition of a maze habit in rats by J. H. Doolittle and C. W. Thomson, 265
Conditioned avoidance decrement under spreading depression by N. L. Freeman and L. Lash, 411
Cortical spreading depression and habituation by Lynn Nadel, 119
Retrograde amnesia due to spreading cortical depression: Paradoxical effect of shock-SD interval by R. G. Rabedeau, 113
Transfer of habituation using spreading depression by L. R. Squire, 261
Cholinergic stimulation of the brain and avoidance behavior by J. Sepinwall, 93

DRUG AND HORMONE EFFECTS

Scopolamine, amphetamine and light-reinforced responding by P. L. Carlton, 347
Effects of preweaning injections of adrenalin on later open field behavior of rats by N. D. Henderson and H. C. Eisner, 91
The effect of epinephrine on extinction of an avoidance response by A. I. Leshner and C. N. Stewart, 89
Norepinephrine elicitation of aggressive display responses in Betta splendens by R. L. Marrone, S. L. Pray and C. C. Bridges, 207
Imprinting: Effects of drug induced immobilization by G. E. MacDonald and A. Solandt, 95
Discrimination reversal under sodium pentobarbital by D. Meltzer, N. L. Merkler and G. C. Maxey, 413
Retrograde amnesia induced by carbon dioxide inhalation by E. E. Quinton, 417
The effect of ethyl alcohol on electroencephalographic sleep cycles in cats by R. B. Yules, J. A. Ogden, F. P. Gault and D. X. Freedman, 97

ANIMAL BEHAVIOR

The effect of cutaneous vibration on weight loss by D. M. J. P. Atrens (Vol. 4, 281-282)
Comment by D. M. Atrens and M. B. King, 440
Behavior shaping in studies of preweaning stress by N. D. Henderson, 125
Social dominance in the mouse by G. Lindzey, M. Manosevitz and H. Winston, 451
The rabbit and cat in the delayed alternation problem by P. J. Livesey and J. Trinder, 437
The internal clock hypothesis for astro-navigation in homing pigeons by M. E. Meyer, 259
Sensory deprivation and operant conditioning of rats by V. Pishkin and J. T. Shurley, 283
Aggressive behavior and extinction-induced response-rate increase by T. Thompson and W. Bloom, 335
Infantile handling and performance in the T-maze by R. Wong, 203

ACTIVITY

Time of day effects on learning and open field activity by R. C. Hostetter, 257
An activity measure of sleeping and waking behavior by R. A. Levitt, 287
Differential rearing and free versus forced exploration by R. K. Lore and Amy Levowitz, 421
Energizing effects of combined food and water deprivation upon general activity by J. H. Wright, G. A. Gescheider and Mary Lee Johnson, 415

MOTIVATION

Effects of food deprivation on object and nonobject directed behavior in the rat by M. C. Kamback, 107

Eye and hand preference in rhesus monkeys (Macaca mulatta) by D. C. Kruper, B. E. Boyle and R. A. Patton, 277
A self-feeding system for pre-weanling mice by R. C. LaBarba, 181
Motivational properties of the CS in conditioned suppression by R. C. Leaf, 43
Intermodal stimulation as a motivator for choice behavior by D. W. Matheson, 117
The rat's preference for saline solutions as measured by licking reinforced on a variable interval schedule by E. M. Stricker, 205
Differential response rates of two concurrently available instrumental drinking responses by H. L. Taylor and R. W. Schaeffer, 19
A further investigation of conditioned hunger by R. C. Trost and M. J. Homzie, 355
The significance of sodium in the preference for saccharin solutions by E. S. Valenstein, 341

CONDITIONING

Changes in respiration and the form of the heart-rate CR in dogs by R. D. Fitzgerald and R. A. Walloch, 425
Increased responding to CS^- in differential CER by Lynn J. Hammond, 337
Persistence of conditioned fighting in a hen pigeon by F. N. Willis, Jr., Geraldine Michael and J. Edwards, 323

DISCRIMINATION LEARNING

Discrimination training and reversal in groups of honey bees by G. Bermant and N. E. Gary, 179
Discriminative performance by three species of monkeys as a function of trial 1 reward contingency, intertrial interval, and prior test experience by W. N. Boyer, 27
Discrimination learning as a function of internal stimuli by J. Bowen and D. Strickert, 297
Role of r_g-s_g in forgetting by D. Ehrenfreund and J. Allen, 281
Visual discrimination of color, pattern, and form in the Japanese quail (Coturnix coturnix japonica) by F. G. Fidura and Jennifer A. Gray, 427
Distribution of practice effects on imprinting by Gloria J. Fischer, 197
A response duration technique for measuring stimulus generalization by M. H. Kellicutt, 353
A "split-alley" technique for equating brightness in a visual discrimination task by B. Kolesnik and A. Amsel, 187
Visual discrimination versus visuo-motor learning in interocular transfer in the fish by Evelyn Lee-Teng, 209
Linear pattern completion by chimpanzees by T. E. Levere, 15
Sensitivity of the pigeon to changes in the magnetic field by M. E. Meyer and D. R. Lambe, 349
Stimulus control of matching and oddity in a pigeon by J. A. Nevin and K. Liebold, 351
Effects of overtraining and two non-correction training procedures upon a brightness discrimination reversal by C. Paul, 423
Object-quality learning-set formation in the young chicken by R. J. Plotnik and R. B. Tallarico, 195
Shape discrimination and transfer in the California sea lion by R. J. Schusterman and T. Thomas, 21
Acquisition of an imitative response in rats by V. E. Stimbert, R. W. Schaeffer and D. L. Grimsley, 339
Comparative studies in simple oddity learning: I. Cats, raccoons, monkeys, and chimpanzees by P. N. Strong, Jr. and Monnie Hedges, 13
Stimulus change effects on matching to sample performance by A. Stubbs and J. R. Thomas, 115
The learning of an optional extradimensional/reversal shift problem by rats by N. S. Sutherland and N. J. MacIntosh, 343
Transfer effects in monkey discrimination learning after extensive two-problem training by F. R. Treichler, 201
Discrimination performance in deprived and non-deprived rats as a function of pre-discrimination information by Reesa M. Vaughter, Zita E. Tyer and C. G. Halcomb, 199
Response to symbols by squirrel monkeys by L. S. Woodburne and G. K. Rieke, 429

AVOIDANCE

An automated analogue of the one-way Miller-type avoidance box by M. Baum and S. A. Bobrow, 361
On the differences between animals that learn and do not learn to avoid electric shock by F. R. Brush, 123
The effect of constant current shock intensities on the acquisition of a discriminated avoidance response by H. M. B. Hurwitz and P. V. Dillow, 109
The effect of constant power shock on the acquisition of a discriminated avoidance response by H. M. B. Hurwitz and P. V. Dillow, 111
Patterns of extinction of a detection-indicating response under escape-avoidance reinforcement by H. J. Jerison, 279
Effect of continuous vs. discontinuous shock on shuttle box avoidance in the rat by K. E. Moyer and J. A. Chapman (Vol. 4, 197-198)
Erratum, 18
Differential transfer of control of avoidance responses as a function of UCS duration by J. B. Overmier, 25
Shuttle avoidance: Rapid acquisition by rats to a pressurized air unconditioned stimulus by A. J. Ray, Jr., 29
Non-incremental shuttle-avoidance acquisition to pressurized air US by A. J. Ray, Jr., 433
Effects of increasing punishment frequency on Sidman avoidance behavior by J. Sandler, R. S. Davidson and R. D. Holzschuh, 103
Effect of punishment: Facilitation or inhibition? A reply to Martin and Melvin by N. F. Smith, J. R. Misanin and B. A. Campbell, 363

Temporal avoidance conditioning in the cat by D. C. Steinbrecher and R. A. Lockhart, 441

PUNISHMENT

Conditioned fear as a function of US intensity under conditions of drive constancy by D. C. Anderson and L. Johnson, 443
Persistence to continuous punishment and nonreward following training with intermittent punishment and nonreward by R. K. Banks, 105
Pre- and post-trial stimulation: Effects on retention by W. H. Calhoun and R. J. Murphy, 435
Response suppression as a function of the schedule of punishment by D. S. Camp, G. A. Raymond and R. M. Church, 23
Stimulus control of acquired fear and instrumental behavior by R. C. De Bold, 439
Escape behavior as determined by schedules of shock and discrete CS presentations by J. J. Franchina, 31
UCR morphology and shock intensity by E.D.Goodman, J. A. Dyal, O. Zinser and A. Golub, 431
Punishment induced facilitation: Comments and analysis by R. C. Martin and K. B. Melvin, 269
(See Smith, Misanin and Campbell below)
Learning in an invertebrate with two types of negative reinforcement by J. E. Morrow, 131
Rotation as an aversive stimulus for rats by D. C. Riccio and J. S. Thach, Jr., 267
Effectiveness of fixed ratio punishment and durability of its effects by L. H. Storms and G. Boroczi, 447
Interaction of reward magnitude and conditioned fear on the consummatory response by J. R. Vogel and N. E. Spear, 263
Skin resistance changes in the rat during repeated encounters with electric shock by G. Walters and Carole Tullis, 359

REINFORCEMENT

Partial reinforcement and the CER by C. J. Brimer and F. J. Dockrill, 185
Effects of variable effort expenditure on subsequent preference for the reinforcer by R. M. Cristal, 41
Negative contrast effect as a function of magnitude of reward decrement by V. Di Lollo and V. Beez, 99
Mirror-image reinforcement in monkeys by G. G. Gallup, Jr., 39
Learning with prolonged delay of reinforcement by J. Garcia, F. R. Ervin and R. A. Koelling, 121
Frustration effect following changed S-R temporal relations by H. D. Kimmel and Nancy Hooter McGinnis, 333
Probability learning in immature and adult rats by N. Longo and L. R. Beideman, 291
Differential reward conditioning: S- contrast as a function of the magnitude of S+ by H. W. Ludvigson and S. E. Gay, 289
Two-choice and three-choice probability learning in fish by R. Marrone and S. Evans, 327
Extinction as a function of reinforcement conditions in the start box by G. McCain and R. Power, 193
Incentive reduction: Delay increase and subsequent responding by J. H. McHose, 213
Incentive reduction: Simultaneous delay increase and magnitude reduction and subsequent responding by J. H. McHose, 215
Secondary reinforcing properties of informative and non-informative stimulus by B. McKeever and B. Forrin (Vol. 4, 115-116)
Comment by M. E. P. Seligman, 299
Reply by B. Forrin, 300
Probability learning in the T-maze as a function of proportion of reinforcement by R. P. Melera, 331
Reduction of response latency in monkeys by a procedure of differential reinforcement by J. M. Miller, M. Glickstein and W. C. Stebbins, 177
Two failures to demonstrate superiority of a generalized secondary reinforcer by W. A. Myers and M. A. Trapold, 321
Generalized conditioned reinforcement in satiated rats by J. A. Nevin, 191
The effects of shifts in magnitude of reward on runway performance in immature and adult rats by W. A. Roberts, 37
Light as a reinforcer of pecking in tube-fed leghorn chicks by G. M. Sterritt, 35
Enhancement of fixed-ratio performance by briefly presented conditioned reinforcing stimuli by J. R. Thomas and A. Stubbs, 329
Spontaneous recovery and partial reinforcement effects in the runway by M. E. Thompson, 33
Noncontingent partial reinforcement of running: A replication by M. A. Trapold and D. Holden, 449
Secondary stimulus control of a "new" operant incompatible with "running to the food magazine" by W. W. Wenrich, D. D. Cahoon, G. Ambrose and R. Laplace, 189
Cues associated with frustrative nonreward do not necessarily have aversive motivational properities by R. Wong and W. B. Pavlik, 325
